AMPUTATIONS BY CANDLE LIGHT

Grim Story Of Hankow Air Raid Slaughter

TERRIBLE TOLL IN TEN SHORT MINUTES MARVELLOUS WORK BY CHINESE RED CROSS

Hankow, To-day.

Last night's raid lasted for only ten minutes but this brief space of time was sufficient for the Japanese bombers to turn large areas of a peaceful city into a horrible shambles.

It seems impossible that such destruction and death could be accomplished in so short a time, and some of the scenes still being witnessed this morning are too horrible to describe.

Every available Chinese doctor, dresser and nurse in the three cities has been rounded up by authorities, and the sufferings of the numerous victims has been somewhat alleviated by the marvellous work of the Chinese Red Cross and the Methodist Mission Hospital.

The latter threw open its doors to the dying and wounded victims of the Japanese bombs, and scores of operations and amputations were performed by the flickering light of candles, the electric light system having been blown up.

In the midst of this scene of horror, with the groaning of the injured, doctors and nurses moved efficiently about their work for hours, performing miracles of endurance and self-sacrifice.

Morning reveals that one area, measuring approximately 200 by 150 feet, has been turned into a ghastly shambles, three bombs all having dropped within this space.

Meanwhile, rescue work is still proceeding and debris is being sorted in the search for further victims. — Reuter.

HOSPITALS OVERCROWDED

Hankow, To-day.
All hospitals, both foreign and Chinese, are crowded with wounded who sustained injuries during the raid.

Japanese air raid yesterday afternoon.

Vans are still going about the city picking up the remains of human bodies and searching for wounded.

The officials estimate that over 1,000 people must have been killed and wounded. — Our Own Correspondent.

BRITAIN TO LODGE NEW PROTEST

London, To-day.
Further instructions are being sent to the British Ambassador in Tokyo, Sir Robert Craigie, to make strong representations to the Japanese Government concerning the bombing of non-military objectives in China, and expressing the sorrow felt in this country at the deplorable loss of life among the civilian population caused by the bombing of Canton. — Reuter.

SHANSI ARMY OFFENSIVE

Shanghai, To-day.
A successful Chinese offensive was carried out by Shansi troops yesterday on a 150 kilometre front extending from Taining in a south-eastern direction to the Great Wall, according to a military bulletin issued from Nanking last night.

Following severe fighting, which at over 3,000. — Trans-Ocean.

MADAME CHIANG PUTS THINGS IN PROPORTION

Shanghai, To-day.
Rebutting "amazing" Japanese claims to have put out of commission about half China's air force, Madame Chiang Kai-shek, to whom all reports of Chinese pilots have been submitted and checked, says that between August 14 and August 31, inclusive, 62 Japanese planes were shot down. This total, the Generalissimo's wife declares, was largely increased in September.

Madame Chiang refers scathingly to the Japanese claim that 24 Chinese planes were shot down over Nanking on September 21, saying "this is nine more than we sent into the air." — Reuter.

During the last several hours, the Japanese lines were thrown back and over 2,000 Japanese, as well as a large amount of supplies and weapons, captured.

Japanese casualties are estimated at over 3,000. — Trans-Ocean.

EFFECTS OF ALTITUDE

Commercial airplanes of the near future equipped with cabins which will maintain sea level conditions regardless of what altitudes are flown will add to passenger comfort, but will produce no marked change in the already high efficiency of conditioned flight crews.

This is the considerable opinion of Dr. Ross A. McFarland, of Columbia University, who in company with Dr. H. T. Edwards, of Harvard University, recently made a round trip flight across the Pacific and back in order to complete a series of studies on altitude effects. The series includes a study made over the Chilean Andes in 1935.

Altitude effects noticed in some persons only accustomed to see level conditions and in mentality and physically exhausted passengers do not occur in seasoned pilots.

"On the contrary," states Dr. McFarland, "our experiments on the Pan American Clippers flights, which were made at altitudes of from 8,000 to 12,000 feet, have shown that the flying crews of the clippers maintain a high degree of psychological and mental efficiency."

IMPERIAL AIRWAYS EXHIBITS

In addition to the Exhibition Train which is now touring England, Wales, and Scotland, Imperial Airways have just placed a special air transport exhibit in the New York Museum of Science and Industry, while the company will also be showing again this year at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Among features of the exhibits in the New York Museum of Science and Industry at the Rockefeller Centre are a number of working Commercial air reports, received from various parts of the world, all indicated the energy with which air transport schemes are now being developed. In Canada there is to be an increase in mail services to remote areas. In the United States further steps are to be taken to models. These include a demonstration, with sound, of the system by which an aeroplane flying above cloud checks its position by wireless signals exchanged with ground stations, also a working model of how landings can be made in bad visibility by means of short-wave wireless.

At the Canadian National Exhibition the exhibits will include a model of a tank for testing the hulls of flying-boats, a model wind-tunnel, and a model of a combined land and sea air-port. Large route maps will show the extent of the services now operated by Imperial Airways in Europe and throughout the Empire.

The German inventor of this weird-looking gyroplane considers the machine has great possibilities. The plane is shown about to land at the conclusion of a successful test flight.

DEVELOPMENT OF AIR SCHEMES

facilitate the dispatch of urgent freight by a combined use of airways and railways. In Australia plans are being completed to extend the operations of cargo-planes between rail-heads and remote stations.

From a good many areas come reports as to amplified facilities in respect to the chartering of special aircraft, while land-planes, sea-planes, and amphibians are being used to an increasing extent in exploration and survey work with a view to opening up, commercially, regions which have hitherto lain dormant owing to the primitive and undeveloped nature of surface transport.

Increasingly valuable work is being done by commercial aircraft in forestry patrols; also in sowing seeds from the air, and in dropping chemicals for the destruction of insect pests.

How Actress Keeps Hair Gleaming

Egg shampoo and regular brushing keep Miss Katherine Hepburn's lovely red hair gleaming, bright, healthy and easy to manage. During the day if not working before the camera, the attractive actress uses little or no make-up on face and neck, but she always give meticulous attention to her hair.

Miss Hepburn uses two eggs for every weekly shampoo. The whites and yolks are beaten separately until they are foamy, then the yolks are rubbed into the scalp for five minutes. The whites go on next, and these are massaged in, too.

Afterward, the hair is rinsed several times with warm (not hot) water, once in a bowl of water to which the juice of two fresh lemons has been added, again in clear water.

Miss Hepburn does not have finger waves, preferring to leave flat the hair on the crown of her head. The ends are wrapped on paper rolls and, when dry, are brushed until the curls are loose and soft.

Scalp Massage

Every third week, prior to the egg shampoo, the actress has a scalp massage with ice water to stimulate circulation. Her hair is parted in sections, pads dipped in ice water rubbed firmly on the scalp, the massaging continued for ten minutes. Brushing is the next step. Then a shampoo.

You can, of course, combine an egg cleaning with a regular washing. Massage a lightly beaten egg into hair and scalp, rinse out with lukewarm water, shampoo, using liquid soap, rinse several times.

from as early as her fourth birthday a little girl has the parting in her hair restored by periodic visits to the hairdresser.

A natural wave is treated periodically to make it more luxuriant and to lie perfectly, while straight hair is "moulded" into the correct line of beauty.

This early training has another advantage. It enables the hairdresser to detect the beginning of those little scalp troubles which become so difficult to dispose in adult life and result in hair that fades and becomes streaked with white long before its time.

YOUR DAUGHTER'S HAIR

A little girl of six criticised me kindly but firmly a short time ago for not getting the parting in her hair quite right. Taking the comb, she corrected the faults of my handiwork. It was a disconcerting experience, not so much because of failure in a simple task as because the amateur hairdresser realised the wide gap between the child's generation and her own.

In her own childhood, when masses of hair were the fashion, there was often no need of a parting. One wore it confined beneath a neat Alice-in-Wonderland bandeau or arranged in a deep wave over one brow and fixed in that position by a large bow of taffeta ribbon (black for school white for parties), and although for this style a parting was more or less indicated it was often an irregular one, especially if one's hair was curly and "rebellious."

The division of the hair into two parts, each secured by a side-comb or gathered into plaits at the back, often brought about a clearly defined parting, but even a pig-tailed girl sometimes had one side of the hair draped partly across it.

To-day it is the fashion to train the hair in the way it is intended to go in womanhood, and sometimes

BRIDGE NOTES

By ELY CULBERTSON

A Good Play

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: I travel around the country quite a bit and usually try to discover a contract game to while away the time. Here is a hand with which South Bend, Ind., favoured me. I was fortunate enough to bid and make a grand slam in diamonds through the help of a squeeze.
South, dealer.

The bidding:

"The bidding was, perhaps, overly ambitious, but you will agree that I had a good play for the grand slam.

"West opened the spade queen. I saw two chances for contract—a 3-3 break of hearts permitting a club discard, or a club finesse. I was reluctant to depend on either. I took another look and saw a possibility of getting an accurate count on the distribution that would obviate the necessity for a guess.

"After winning the spade lead I played three rounds of diamonds, cashed the spade ace, led a heart game.

to dummy's queen, returned a heart to my ace—and there you are! With six remaining cards, West, virtually was marked with four spades because East had played first the five and then the ten. If West's other two cards were the queen and one club, they must drop: if one club and one heart, the hearts had split evenly and dummy's fourth heart is good; if two hearts, a small club to the king reveals the fact and, automatically establishes a squeeze against West, who must guard dummy's fourth heart and spade, something he will not be able to do. If West's two remaining cards had been two small clubs, meaning that East had the hearts stopped and the club queen to guard, the squeeze would be on East. Thus, regardless of how the side suits were distributed, the fact that I had located West with four spades out of six cards remaining was the crux.

"I led a small club to the king and another low club back to my ace. When West followed to both rounds the situation was revealed: I laid down my two trumps and East had to let go his last club, which would establish my seven spot, or a heart, which would establish dummy's king and six.

"I submit this hand only as an example of the reward to be earned from deferring a doubtful finesse.

"Yours very truly,
"Frank Aubrey, Chicago."
Today's Question

Question: In progressive bridge, is the 250 bonus for progression still used?

Answer: No. The 250 bonus for progression has been eliminated. A premium of 50 points is scored for making any contract less than

TWO NIGHT RAIDS
ON CANTONEASTERN AND WESTERN
SUBURBS BOMBED

Canton, To-day.

One, or possibly more, Japanese planes subjected Canton to further visitations last night, dropping several bombs, two of which exploded in the direction of the Canton-Hankow Railway line. The damage is unknown.

Two alarms were sounded but the silence of the city and Shameen indicates that the majority of the populace slept through the raids.

Machine-gun and rifle fire was also audible from time to time but it is not known in what connection.

Meanwhile, the city is alive with various rumours, such as that the Canton-Hankow Railway is due for bombing on Sunday and that two Japanese aircraft-carriers which have allegedly been operating in the vicinity of Macao, have sailed for Formosa to refuel and reload bombs.

Another rumour is that a number of Chinese planes have arrived in Canton from Nanking to reinforce the local air force. — Reuter.

"ALL CLEAR"
IN HALF AN HOURBombs Heard In The West

Canton, To-day.

The populace were awakened twice in the early hours of this morning, when air raid sirens were sounded by the authorities.

The first alarm was sounded shortly after midnight, Chinese planes were seen heading in the direction of Lin Tin Island to intercept the invading machines.

Apparently, they managed to drive the Japanese planes off or divert them for half an hour later the "all clear" signal was given and the people returned to their beds.

However, they were awakened again about 2.15 a.m., at the second screeching of air raid sirens. This time the invading machines must have almost reached the city, as the Chinese anti-aircraft guns went into action.

Three Chinese planes circled over the city, but no invaders appeared within sight of Shameen.

The explosions of bombs could faintly be heard some distance to the west of the town.

The "all clear" signal was once again sounded at 3.30 a.m.—Our Own Correspondent.

CASUALTY CONFLICT

The extent of the casualties in Wednesday's disastrous raid is the subject of much conflict in reports.

The naval authorities in Hong Kong have received a message from Canton suggesting that the death-roll has been exaggerated and stating that officially only 200 were killed.

Various foreigners arriving in Hong Kong from Tungshan, where the greatest havoc occurred, affirm the opinion that more than one thousand lost their lives.

London, To-day.

Twenty-four Chinese Boxer Indemnity students arrived in London yesterday, one other being unable to leave China owing to the war.

The Universities' China Committee gave a reception to the students in the afternoon, at which a noticeably large number of foreigners, including Lord Lugard (the former Governor of Hong Kong), Sir Charles Addis (formerly of the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank), Sir Edward Denison Ross (Director of the School of Oriental Studies) and Sir Meyrick Hewlett (Consul-General at Hankow), were present to welcome the students and to testify sympathy with China in her hour of trial.

The students have been allocated to Universities all over Britain, according to their respective subjects. The term begins early in October. — Reuter.

WAVE OF "CRIME" HITS LONDON'S RESTAURANT OWNERS

The increasing disregard by many people for the property of others is causing concern and heavy losses to those engaged in several of the public catering services in England.

Railway companies, restaurants, and theatres seem to be regarded as fair game by thieves, kleptomaniacs and souvenir hunters, and as the culprits are frequently "the most unlikely people" the task of detection is difficult.

Thefts of opera glasses from theatres are rapidly increasing. In twelve months one firm have lost more than 2,000 pairs from theatre in London and certain provincial cities, the cost of replacement being approximately £1,500.

"This pilfering," said an official of the Universal Automatic Delivery Co., Ltd., "has been going on for four or five years. It is increasing, and during the last three months has been most serious. We are rather at our wits' end to find means to stop it."

"Recently we prosecuted a receiver of two pairs of stolen glasses, who was fined $5 and ordered to pay $5 5s. costs, and the magistrate at Bow-street said that in future cases the offenders would be sent to prison. The difficulty is to trace the people."

"Very Serious"

"As a result of the pilfering in recent years, there are probably more than 7,000 pairs of our glasses in the possession of unauthorised individuals. Some have been seen in use at dog tracks and on race-courses."

"Most of the thefts are committed in London, but other cities, notably Liverpool, Glasgow, and Birmingham, are pretty bad. There are cases where people, have taken glasses, have thought better of it and returned them, while allowances have to be made for the absent-minded, who make restitution with apologies. The sum total of the thieving, viewed at the end of a financial year, is very serious."

WOMAN WITH 40 DOGS

Neighbours Secure A Court Order

Five neighbours of Miss Violet Bowden Smith, of Cobo, Guernsey, have been put to such inconvenience and in all instances left the "Angel" by the noise of forty dogs which she keeps that they brought the matter to the notice of the Royal Court of Guernsey.

Counsel for the complainants said that in May this year Miss Smith was ordered to suppress the nuisance within eight days, under penalty of $5.

No notice had been taken of the order, and he asked the Court to order an abatement of the nuisance within three days, under a penalty of $100.

The Court agreed to the penalty, and gave Miss Smith, who was not in court, three days' notice.

Much the same story is told by the railways.

Chromium-plated fittings in carriages and coat hooks are disappearing in large numbers. Even foot-hassocks go occasionally, though how the thief manages to carry away his bulky booty puzzles the officials. In the refreshment rooms there are "waves" of crime, when cutlery and plate vanish.

"Treasure Hunts"

As a result, for many of the gala occasions, such as Cup Final day, the better cutlery is put away, and knives, forks, and spoons of low degree are deliberately brought into service. The old story of the wedding present of cutlery inscribed "Midland Hotel" has not lost its point.

Restaurants, and tea shops to a lesser degree, are also sufferers, though there is definitely less "souvenir-snatching" in hotels than there was. The menace of "treasure hunt" parties, is, however, a real one. In this "game" a band of young people set out deliberately on an evening of glorified brigandage.

The winner of the hunt is he or she who can produce the greatest assortment of "scrounged" goods—cutlery, ash trays, jugs, and even table ornaments. The loser in every case is the hotel or restaurant keepers, and although figures are impossible to get it is known that replacements cost many thousands of pounds a year.

"MERCY ANGEL" KILLER?

Police Suspect German Nurse As Arsenic Poisoner

Suspected of 11 murders, and definitely charged with two, Mrs. Anna Marie Hahn, aged 31, a German, lies in Cincinnati Prison awaiting trial for the murder of George Gsellman, aged 67, and Jacob Wagner, both known to have been her friends.

Poison was the deadly agent, and the police found enough arsenic in the woman's house "to kill hundreds."

Mrs. Hahn is an immigrant, and has been in the country several years. She gained publicity in Cincinnati by her "works of mercy," and was known as "Mercy Angel."

When she found a person ill she begged permission to nurse them free of all charge.

Five old men thus "nursed" died, and in all instances left the "Angel" large sums in their wills.

She has already collected $10,000 as legacies from her men patients, and the question of insurance is now being looked into by the police.

The police are working on the suspicion that Mrs. Hahn is accountable for eleven murders. They have traced the purchase of arsenic to her all over the State, and so far she has not been able to account for the large quantity of this poison in her house.

Arsenic was the cause of the deaths of Gsellman and Wagner, whom she had known for some time and nursed when ill.

MURDER FROM THE SKIES

HITLER PEACE PLAN RECALLED

London, To-day.
In a leading article headed "Murder from the Skies," the "Daily Telegraph" expresses the opinion that a strongly-worded collective Note by the United States and European Powers to Japan could alone be effective in preventing future bombings from the air such as those of Nanking and Canton.

The journal says that the bombing of open towns is not sanctioned by any laws of war and can only be described as premeditated and wilful murder against which the Western Powers must protect themselves.

The Hague Convention expressly enacted that bombing must be strictly confined to objectives of a military nature.

This was not the case with Canton, and Japan has thus been guilty of a breach of her engagements.

The journal recalls the peace plan proposed by Herr Hitler eighteen months ago, which included a direct prohibition of the bombing of open towns.

That plan, the paper says, has unfortunately attracted too little attention.—Trans-Ocean.

EIGHTEEN MONTHS AGO

Could Have Agreed On List Of "Open" Towns

Berlin, To-day.
The worldwide indignation at the Japanese bombing of Nanking and Canton has caused the German press to recall Herr Hitler's proposals that dropping of incendiary bombs and poison gas be prohibited and that all bombing of open towns be declared unlawful.

The papers say it is incomprehensible why the Western Power

Signposts are plentiful on the Dutch roads. They are all modern and easily distinguishable. Photo shows a signpost near Volendam, at the entrance to a by-road for cyclists only. The vehicles depicted in the sign are not allowed to use the road. (Fox Copyright).

WARSHIP REPORTED SUNK BY MINE

Nanking, To-day.
It is officially reported that one of the Japanese warships engaged in a combined bombardment on the Linyun Harbour yesterday struck a mine and sunk outside the Harbour.—Hua Nan.

allowed eighteen months to pass without paying the slightest attention to the proposals, in realisation of which they ought to be greatly interested.

The paper says the Power could have exchanged lists of towns to be considered "open" towns and agreed mutually to spare them in time of war.

Nanking and Canton have again proved that methods of "general settlement" and "collective security" can produce no practical results.—Trans-Ocean.

SURPRISE ATTACK LAUNCHED ON BOTH FLANKS

Tientsin, To-day.

Japanese military headquarters here claim the capture of Tsangchow at 6 p.m. yesterday.

The Chinese have retreated southwards. Japanese officials are overjoyed over the news of the capture as this town is considered to be the most strategic position on the Tientsin-Pukow Railway.

Explaining the report yesterday that a detachment of Japanese troops was ambushed by Chinese soldiers west of Paotingfu, the Japanese headquarters spokesman said that the Japanese forces in that sector were subjected to a surprise attack on both flanks in the morning. The Chinese who brought heavy artillery into action inflicted disastrous losses on the Japanese leading the Ishiguro Brigade.

Apparently the Chinese who had retreated slowly in the direction of the city, retired only in the centre, the wings suddenly launching forward and killing hundreds of Japanese troops.

DAY SAVED

The Japanese, however, rushed up reserves and subsequently managed to prevent the complete annihilation of the Brigade.

Paotingfu, it is claimed, is now in the hands of the Japanese, the Chinese forces having retreated five miles to the south-east of the town.—Our Own Correspondent.

CHINESE OUT OF TOUCH

Apparent Confirmation Of Town's Fall

Hankow, To-day.

The fall of Paotingfu into Japanese hands could not be confirmed here yesterday evening, as communications have been severed by the Japanese.

The latest report received here was yesterday morning when it was learned that a fierce battle between the two forces was raging round the city.—Our Own Correspondent.

DR. H. H. KUNG SAILS IN VICTORIA

Naples, To-day.

The Chinese Minister of Finance, Dr. H. H. Kung, sailed for Shanghai yesterday in the Lloyd Triestino motor-liner Victoria.

Dr. Kung thus brought to a close his long tour of Europe, during which he concluded many important contracts for supplies to China.—Reuter.

MINE OFF THE YANGTSE

Shanghai, To-day.

The Japanese say that the N.Y.K. liner Nagasaki Maru sighted a floating mine 120 nautical miles east of the Yangtse near Tsungming Island.

The Japanese therefore have warned neutral shipping to be on the look out for mines.—Trans-Ocean.

TAKAHASHI BRIGADE CUT UP ON LOTIEN FRONT

Reduced To Strength Of Battalion: Taken Out Of Line

VAIN JAPANESE ONSLAUGHTS

Shanghai, To-day.

An official Chinese report says that the Japanese Takahashi Brigade, which has been fighting near Lotien since September 20, has been reduced to the strength of a battalion in three days of futile attempts to break through the Chinese lines.

All that remained of the Brigade has been withdrawn from the front lines.

The Brigade lost 400 dead and 41 machine-guns on the night of September 23.

The third Japanese attack launched within a week against the town of Lotien, north of Shanghai, was successfully repulsed by the Chinese yesterday.

Although the Japanese made use of freshly landed troops and backed up the attack with intense gun fire, the Chinese held their positions, the Japanese being repulsed with severe loss.—Trans-Ocean.

Shanghai, To-day.

A Chinese military communique states that a long-drawn out battle, which commenced on Thursday night on the Lotien-Liuhong front was brought to a decisive end when the rearguard of the Japanese were dispersed and hundreds killed and wounded.

Prior to their collapse, the Japanese on this line made five charges on the Chinese position without success.—Hua Nan.

INACTIVITY ON OTHER SECTORS

Occasional Artillery Fire

Shanghai, 10 a.m. To-day.

Except in the Lotien sector where strenuous efforts have been made by the Japanese to break through, the Shanghai front was remarkable for its inactivity yesterday and this morning.

Occasionally, artillery fire is heard, with the Pootung batteries dropping odd shells into Hongkew and the Japanese desultorily shelling the Kiangwan lines.

There are rumours of a big Japanese offensive pending on the Kiangwan lines, but there was no sign of activity to-day.—Our Own Correspondent.

CAPITAL SHIPS AT SHANGHAI

Shanghai, To-day.

Two more Japanese big battle ships, 27,000 tons each, have arrived here to join the present fleet in Shanghai. These two giant war vessels have been identified as the "Hongo" and the "Harina."—Hua Nan.

BOARD OF TRADE SUGGESTS CHANGES IN H.K. ORDINANCE

The "Gazette" contains the draft of an Ordinance to amend the Merchant Shipping (No. 2) Amendment Ordinance, 1934, and the Merchant Shipping Ordinance, 1899, as amended in 1935.

Section 5 of the Merchant Shipping (No. 2) Amendment Ordinance, 1934 repealed the first three sub-sections of section 41 of the principal Ordinance and substituted three new sub-sections. The new sub-section (2) provided that where by or under any of the Merchant Shipping Acts functions are required to be performed by the Governor, such functions may be performed by the Governor or by any public officer nominated for the purpose by him.

Ordinance No. 25 of 1934, is not yet in force, as by section 7 thereof its operation is suspended pending the notification of His Majesty's pleasure thereon.

The object of clause 2 of the draft Bill is to repeal the new sub-section (2) of section 41 of the principal Ordinance. It will not affect, however, the repeal of the former sub-section 41 effected by the first paragraph of Section 5 of Ordinance No. 25 of 1934.

Section 2 of the Merchant Shipping Amendment Ordinance, 1935 (Ordinance No. 28 of 1935) effected three amendments in section 2 of the principal Ordinance. The first of these was the insertion in it of a new paragraph (aa) which provided that "Governor" includes, in relation to any purpose of the Ordinance, any person authorised by the Governor for that purpose.

The object of clause 3 of this Bill is to repeal that new paragraph.

An ex-Naval officer, Commander B. W. H. Youlten, is providing a novelty for holiday makers at Hastings Bathing Pool. By means of realistic models he produces amazing spectacles such as the blocking of Zeebrugge. Visitors are allowed to examine the models before the show and enjoy manoeuvring them. Photo shows the model of a liner which sails normally for a time and then sinks stern first — to represent a torpedoed ship. (Fox Copyright).

The repeals effected by clauses 2 and 3 of the Bill have been suggested by the Board of Trade in their letter of the 5th May, 1937, transmitted in the Secretary of State's despatch No. 287 of the 21st July, 1937.

Clause 4 of the Bill suspends its operation so that it can be brought into operation after His Majesty's pleasure is known. This is the usual practice with Merchant Shipping Bills. It will be convenient to bring it into operation at the same time as Ordinance No. 25 of 1934 is brought into operation under section 7 thereof.

Pyjamas In Court

"My, my!" exclaimed Judge Thurmond Clarke, peering through his spectacles in a Los Angeles divorce court. "Am I dreaming?"

Standing before him was Mrs. Ann Siegal, wearing a pair of gleaming, white silk pyjamas.

"When my father was on the Bench you would probably have been in contempt of Court for wearing those things here," shouted the Judge. "But I guess it's all right in these days."

Mrs. Siegal won her divorce.

An American Professor Examines The UNITED STATES OF EUROPE

The analysis of the "geographical distribution of nations and nationalities" is of fundamental importance when one has to do with Europe. One may perhaps regret these diversities; but we are glad that they exist. If one crosses Europe in almost any direction one has to cross not only many state and national and racial boundaries but one meets continually barriers of language and customs. The only large country in Europe with a unified people with a single language, with no significant minority is Germany. But Germany, though it has a large population of essentially unified character, blood and tradition, is practically and not perhaps merely surrounded, like many other countries in Europe, by political groups, races and states of a more or less divergent sort. These divergencies involve basic problems, when one thinks of a peaceful order among European nations, to avoid feeling of Frenchmen, Englishmen speaking of the "United States of Europe."

If we regard states of several nationalities or languages, such as Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia or in fact most European state of size we find the problem is not simply international but national, and these national or nationality conditions cause and involve antipathies, because they are felt to be injustices.

It was no doubt due to a recognition of this situation that the principle of self-determination for nations and races was announced during the War and later promised but never consistently applied. Consider Memel, Corridor, Danzig, the German people in Czechoslovakia, Alsace-Lorraine, Eupen-Malmédy, and even in some small measure Silesia and the peculiar position of Austria. I imagine few would pretend that the present European organisation as it affects the implied status quo is consistent with the rights of nationality and race, not merely in most of the cases related to Germany, but several others including, of course, Hungary.

If we assume that a universal league of European nationalities and states is desirable, whether for the purpose of maintaining peace, or as a general Zoll-Verein (Customs Union), or as a "United States," the realization of such an ideal or desire cannot be attained except by force as long as the principle of self-determination is violated, as peoples are not granted an honest recognition, a mutual recognition, of the rights of nationality and especially where and when nationality involves a geographical area which is practically identical with the ethnic area.

To ignore the cultural and social facts of European peoples and nationalities and to violate principles which have been so generally but often falsely professed by personalities that have dominated Europe's destiny within the last generation, is to leave out of consideration realities of the first magnitude for politics.

When one considers the great and recurring strife, wars and struggles of European countries among themselves, affecting in the case of the last war directly or indirectly every people and state also of other continents and the continuing uncertainties and real or fancied insecurities, one must desire some re-organisation or re-formation of the European structure. At the same time one may agree that the union we find in the American states may be good and natural and necessary, whereas a similar union in Europe might prove socially and culturally harmful, even if it would prove practically and not perhaps merely theoretically possible. To arrange a union of such diverse cultures, languages and partly racial and historical traditions might be at the cost of great cultural and human values. I think this is the among European nations, to avoid feeling of Frenchmen, Englishmen and Germans as well as, for example, of Swedes, Norwegians, Danes and Finns. In the case of the last named we see a considerable and growing cooperation in many ways, though no tendency toward really uniting. These northern peoples are as it were paraphrasing on a small scale the motto "in union there is strength" and agreeing that in cooperation there is strength.

There was continual friction between Swedes and Norwegians while these countries were united, whereas now as independent neighbouring countries each is satisfied and contented. We may see in this a case of historical pragmatism and contrasting with the scheme of a European union. The basic conditions leading to, in fact, making necessary, a Union of American States then are not parallel to conditions in Europe. But from the point of view of Americans, Europe is a problem and a dangerous one for modern civilization. The German Spengler was not, I believe, as pessimistic as the title of his "Untergang des Abendlandes" (Decline of the Occident) but this title alone suggests that a problem is there which must be solved in some way, if social and cultural catastrophe is to be avoided in future. It seems to me then, also as an American, that a first and needed and possible step toward salvation is an honest and consistent treatment of national group to self-determination politically and culturally, with some exceptions or at least variations for national entities that exist as islands among other groups, as the Germans in Russia, Hungary and Roumania, for example.

In such insular cases no doubt of political subordination to the dominant group or groups may be necessary or desirable, but this does not carry with it the inevitability of cultural repression or suppression or amalgamation. When such a step has been taken it may in time become possible and desirable to use the improved situation as a basis for real and general cooperation if not of "union."

Costume Of 1884

Dressed in costumes of 1884 and tightly clasping each other's hands, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Summerfield attracted inquisitive stares when they boarded a liner in New York for a trip to Norfolk, Virginia.

"Do we look strange?" Mr. Summerfield, aged eighty-four, asked a passenger. "Well, our clothes are the same we wore at our wedding fifty-three years ago to-day."

In 1884 the Summerfields went on their honeymoon to Norfolk. Every year since they have been to Norfolk to revive old memories.

And feeling that this might be their last trip, they wore their wedding clothes hoping to recapture sweeter memories.

THE WORLD GOES BY By "ULYSSES"

IN the belief that men are in need of advice on the subject of love, a Home periodical has started a series of articles designed to smooth the path that we are told never runs that way. Strange as it may seem, I have a voluminous correspondence (hitherto unanswered) on this identical matter, and not to be behind my contemporary, I gladly take this opportunity of bringing ease to the love-lorn.

Harassed Herbert.—Your case is indeed a sad one, Bertie. If, as you say, your affections have been alienated by another (whatever that may mean), I fear I can offer you but little advice, especially since your rival is of such muscular proportions as to give the impression of the north end of an elephant travelling south.

Melancholy Milly is in a sad position. "I am desperately anxious to get married," she writes, "but I can't get my young man to the church when he's sober, and when he's tight the clergyman won't marry us."

I'm sorry, Milly, your letter appears to have got into this page by mistake. However, I have seen the picture of yourself you sent in the letter, and if I were your young man I'd stay tight for life. Write again, dear, and let me know how you get on.

"I am only twenty-three," declares Father Of Ten.

A trifle young, laddie. Are you sure you have counted properly?

Fanciful says: "Just because I don't want to get married on a Friday, my fiancée says I am superstitious."

What makes you think any of the other six days will be luckier, Fanciful?

"My young lady," writes Diehard Dickie, "is fond of going to cinemas and dances, and all that sort of thing, but she never has enough money in her purse to make the evening worth while. I love her very tenderly, but I feel this is no way to begin married life. What shall I do?"

Either get yourself another girl, Dickie, or the one you've got another job.

From Winsome Walter: "Having known a young lady for three weeks, is it in order for me to ask permission to call her by her Christian name?"

Three weeks, Wally, three whole weeks? Why, bless the boy, most couples would be starting divorce proceedings by now.

"My young woman," writes Perplexed, "objects if I drink my tea out of the saucer, and, if to oblige her, I drink it out of the cup, the spoon sticks in my eye. What do you advise?"

Use a straw, Perplexed, or drink coffee.

"I shall be eighty-three next birthday," writes Sheikie, "and my fiancée is nineteen, do you think the disparity in ages too great?"

Certainly not, Sheikie, yours is the ideal age to marry. After all, how long will you have to put up with her nonsense?

"My baby cries all night and all day," writes Anxious Daddy, "what can I do to stop it?"

I can give you one cure that has never been known to fail, Anxious Daddy, but a lot depends on how much you care for the baby.

Bridge Widower asks: "What can I do to prevent my little boy falling out of his high chair?"

Saw the legs off the darned thing, Bridge Widower, saw the legs off.

Over Optimistic wants to know if any reader can tell him a way to use up fifteen pounds of unwanted sour figs.

"What can I do," wails Doleful, "my children eat far too much? It is bad for their health and worse for my domestic budget."

Yours is by no means an isolated case, Doleful, and the only suggestion I can offer is based on my early childhood. My father, apparently, was faced with your particular problem, which he solved by giving the whole nine of us a shilling apiece to go to bed without any supper. During the night the merry old gentleman would creep into the room and sneak back the shillings; and then next morning we got no breakfast as a punishment for losing our money. The scheme worked like a charm until my eldest brother, a boy with the mind of a bank manager and the conscience of a tax collector, insisted upon our having a money box in which to deposit the shillings. A beautiful red box was installed, with the result that we always had our breakfasts all right, but the gas company reaped an awfully big harvest in shillings.

No, Eager Eddie, I am afraid there's no hope for you. She won't she won't, and that's the end of it.

Further inquiries to be answered in this column must be accompanied by a high-powered postal order made out in favour of Ulysses.

AMERICAN NAVY TO STAY

Admiral Yarnell's Plain Language Message To Ships

CANNOT WITHDRAW WITHOUT FAILURE OF OUR DUTY

Washington, To-day.

An announcement made by Vice-Admiral Harry Yarnell, United States Commander-in-Chief in the Far East, after the meeting of the Navy General Board yesterday, said that "the Navy's policy of maintaining warships at ports where they are needed to protect American citizens will continue in full force even after our nationals have been warned to leave China and after the opportunity to leave has been given."

The statement adds that most Americans now in China are engaged in business or professions which are their only means of livelihood, and they are unwilling to leave until their businesses are destroyed or actual physical danger compels them to do so.

"Until such time our naval forces cannot be withdrawn without failure of our duty and without bringing great discredit on the United States Navy."

TRIPARTITE DISCUSSIONS ON SPAIN

London, To-day.

The Foreign Office states that the British charge d'affaires in Rome yesterday was instructed to tell the Italian Foreign Minister, Count Ciano, that the British Government had been fully informed of the conversations at Geneva between M. Yvon Delbos (French Foreign Minister) and Signor Bovascopeppa (Italian delegate at Geneva).

The charge d'affaires had also been instructed to explain that the British Government fully agreed with the proposal of M. Delbos that steps be taken, by means of tripartite discussions between the British, French and Italian Governments, to deal with the problem of intervention in Spain.—Reuter.

ROME SILENCE

Rome, To-day.

British press reports that Count Ciano assured the British charge d'affaires that Italy intends to keep in force the decree issued last March prohibiting departure of volunteers for Spain, are neither confirmed nor denied.

BRITISH SATISFACTION

Rome, To-day.

Satisfaction of the British and French Governments at the results of the Geneva talks between M. Delbos and Signor Bovascopeppa, was expressed to the Italian Government yesterday by the British and French charges d'affaires.

The British diplomatic representative also informed the Italian Government that Britain was in complete agreement with M. Delbos' proposal for a conference on intervention in Spain.—Trans-Ocean.

It was revealed later that Vice-Admiral Yarnell's announcement was broadcast from the flagship Augusta to other vessels of the Asiatic Fleet on September 22, the day on which the United States protested to Japan.

Plain language was used instead of code, so that the meaning of the Admiral's announcement should not be lost on any Japanese wireless stations who might be listening.—Reuter.

The two cars previously acknowledged under the name of Mr. A. Kemble should be Mr. A. Campbell.

In addition to the above donations the Secretary is also in receipt of the sum of $5 from Dr. P. E. (Per J. P.) for the General Funds of the Blind Home.

The organisers are indeed grateful for the very ready and generous response to this very deserving cause and are confident that as a result of this a very successful outing can be anticipated.

SHIPPING REGISTRATION WARNING

Shanghai, To-day.

A spokesman of the Japanese military headquarters here made a verbal statement yesterday intimating that the Japanese naval authorities would not regard as valid the change of registration of a Chinese-owned steamer if it was made after the year 1936, so she would not be immune from Japanese naval attack within the area of blockade.—Hua Nan.

UNITED HOCKEY TOURNAMENT RESERVATIONS

H.K.H.A. Reject Demands

INTERPORT DATE SUGGESTED BY MACAO

Conditional reservations made by the United Tournament for affiliation with the Hong Kong Hockey Association were rejected by the latter Council at a meeting held at St. Andrew's Church Hall yesterday.

In the absence of Mr. A. A. Dand, the Chairman, Capt. G. W. P. Kimm took the chair.

The reservations were: (1) that the Association shall not interfere in any way with the running of the Tournament; (2) that it had the right to debar from participation in the competition any club that was not unanimously approved by it; and (3) that the Association shall abstain from taking any action to prevent it from using shields and cups for the purposes of recording results.

REJECTED

After some discussion, the conditions were put to the meeting, and with the exception of two, all voted for their rejection.

As a result of this, the Tournament would now be run independently and not under the auspices of the Association. But the strange position now, was that certain clubs affiliated with the Association had already entered for the Tournament and if they part they would not be playing under the rules of the Association.

Mr. G. E. R. Divett suggested that any club affiliated with the Association should be debarred from participating in any tournament not under its control. He was supported by Mr. A. E. P. Guest.

LEAVES MEETING

Mr. L. Tyler, Hon. Secretary of the United Tournament, remarked that the suggestion was out of order as no such business was on the agenda. On being over-ruled by the Chairman, he asked permission to leave, which was granted.

The meeting then decided that a letter be written to the Committee of the United Tournament, informing them that the Council did not approve of their reservations and that, unless these conditions were withdrawn, the Council would not approve of the competition nor would it allow any club affiliated with the

GROSVENOR HOUSE ANTIQUES FAIR

London, To-day.

An Antiques Fair was opened at Grosvenor House yesterday when antiques from all parts of the world, none of them earlier than 1830, were exhibited.

The displays ranged from toby jugs worth a few shillings to treasures costing thousands of pounds sterling.

The whole of the exhibits have been insured for $4,000,000.

Among interested visitors yesterday was Queen Mary, who lent a Georgian cup presented by King George V to Queen Mary on the occasion of their Jubilee.—Reuter.

APPRENTICES' STRIKE

London, To-day.

Engineering apprentices in the Manchester district, of whom over 10,000 have been on strike, have decided to resume work on Monday.

Employers have guaranteed that their claim for higher wages and recognition of status will be considered.—Reuter.

Association to take part in it. Any other competition, the rules of which were not approved by the Association would also come under this ruling.

INTERPORT DATE

A letter from Mr. G. P. Lammert, of the Macao Hockey Club, suggesting that the Interport be held towards the end of January, was read out by the Hon. Secretary, Mr. G. T. Palmer, who was instructed to write a reply, pointing out that the Fleet would not be here at that time.

The Hong Kong Ladies' Hockey Association wrote a letter asking for the supply of umpires at their League matches, and it was decided to leave the matter to the Umpire Board. The Chairman remarked that he was sure the umpires would only be too glad to help the ladies, as they had done in the past.

A reply was received from the Recreation Grounds Committee, saying that the application by the Association for a ground had to be deferred until such time as more recreation spaces were available.

NEW SUB-COMMITTEES

The following sub-committees were elected:

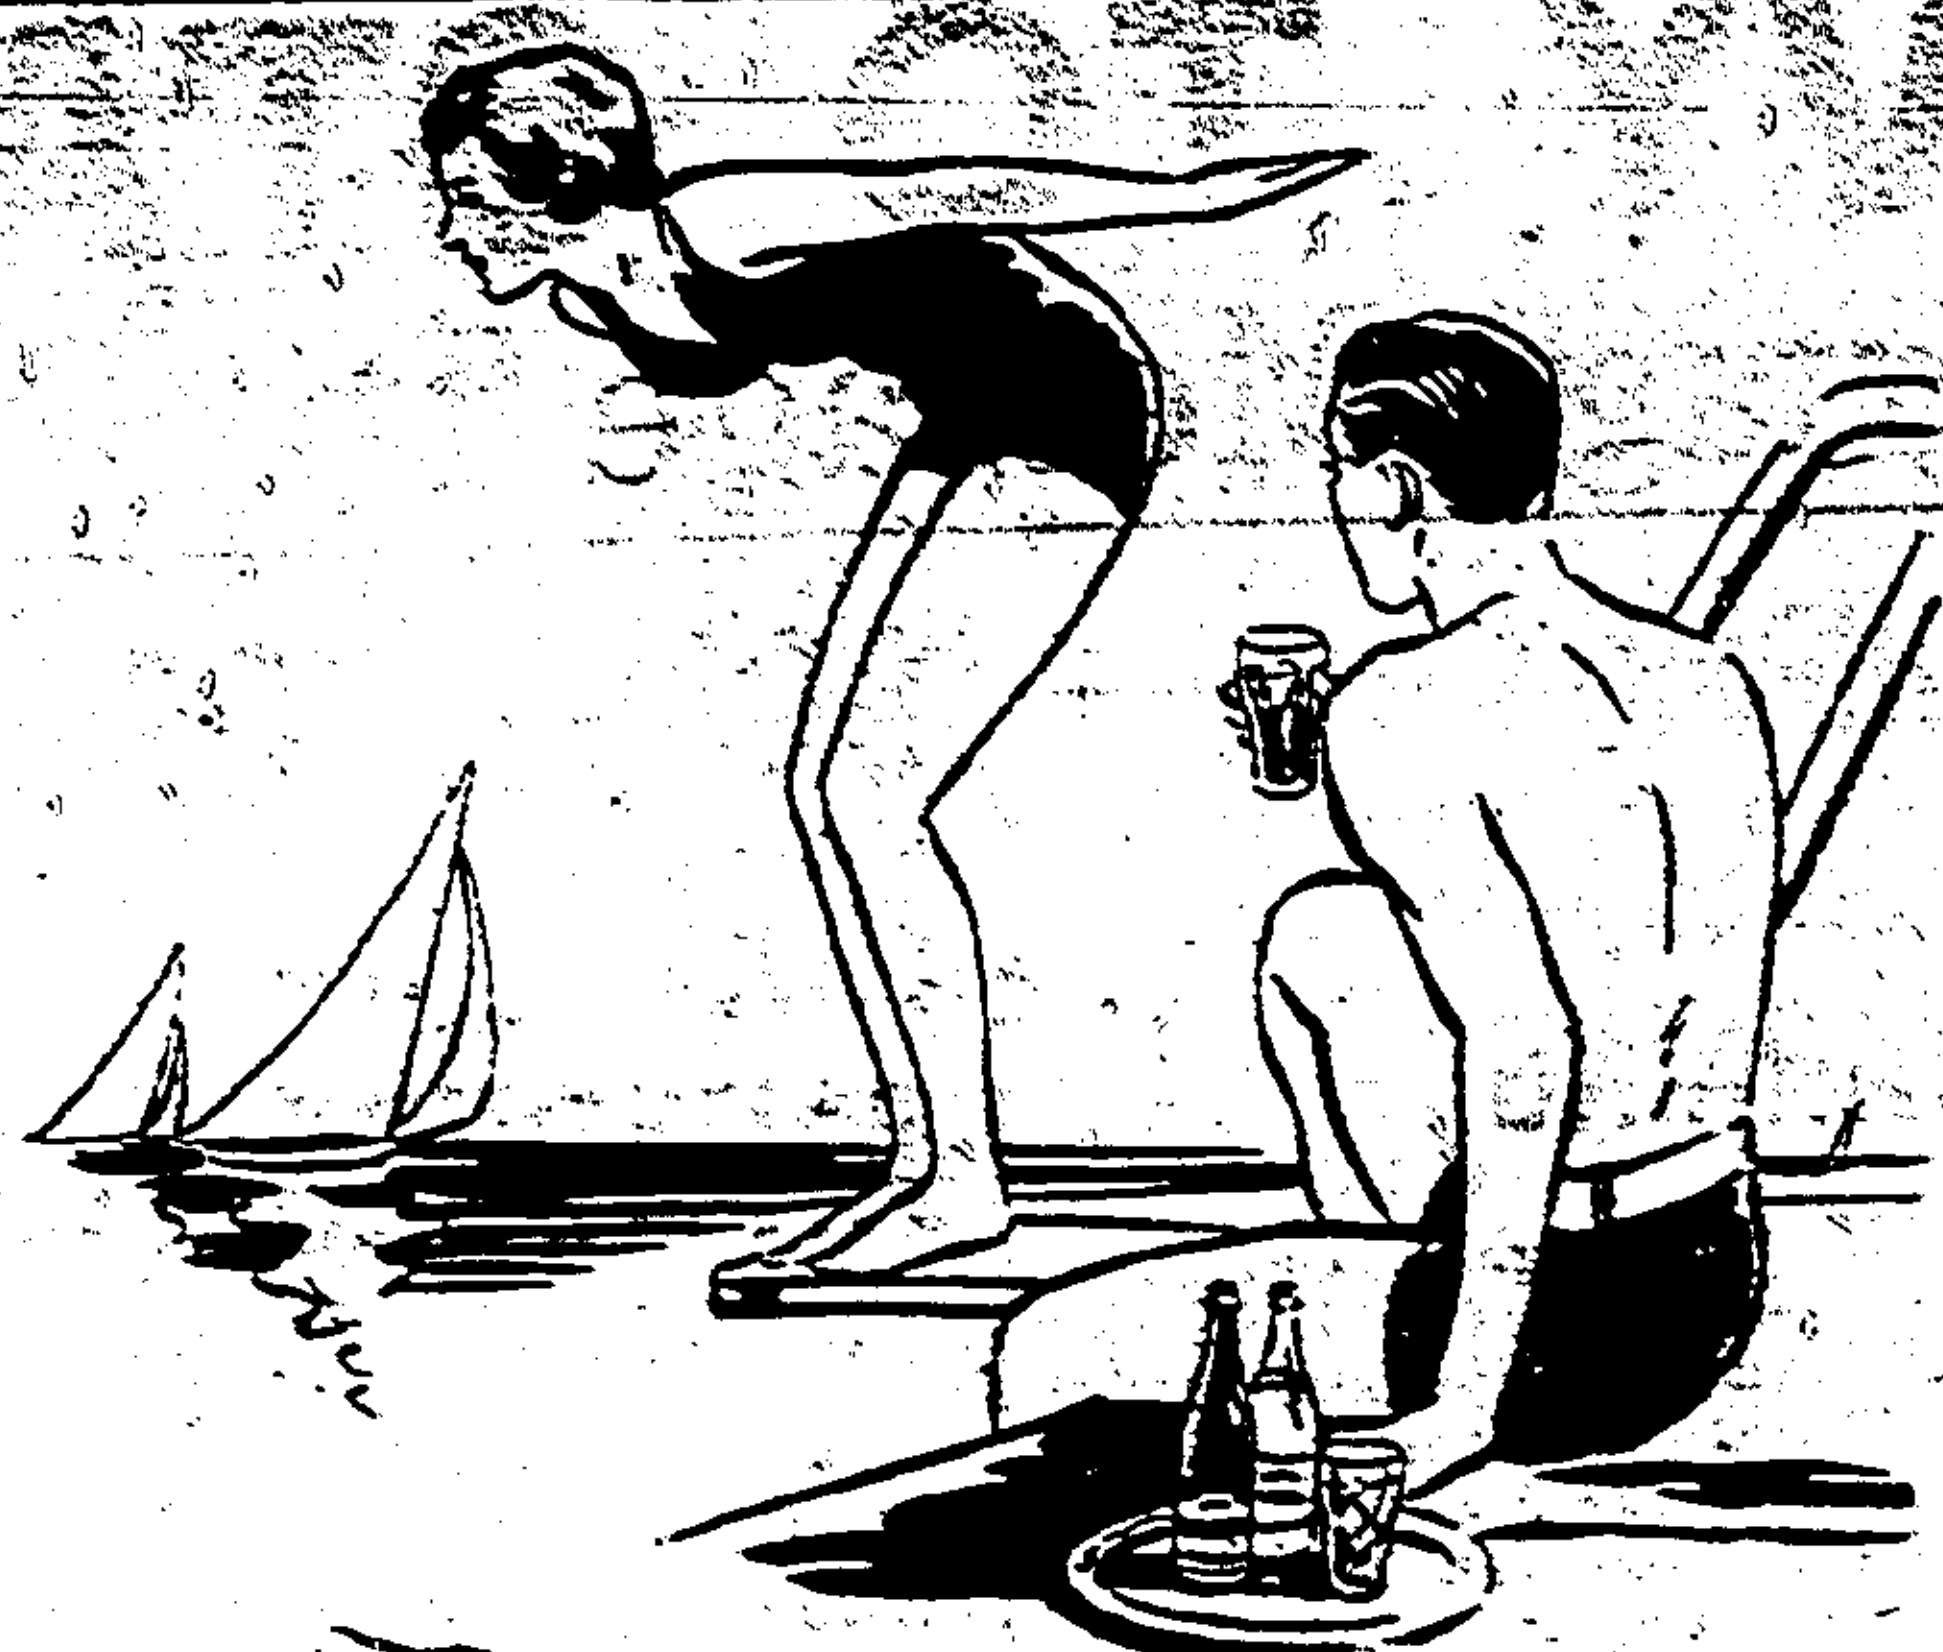

Umpire Board.—Capt. G. W. P. Kimm, Lieut.-Comdr. Bowerman, Mr. A. E. P. Guest and Mr. Funsain (Hon. Secretary).

Inter-Section Tournament (Civilians).—Messrs. A. E. P. Guest, G. E. R. Divett and R. A. Bates.

The meeting concluded with an expression of hope by the Chairman that the United Tournament would see a way, in the interests of hockey in the Colony, to revise their rules and throw in their lot with the Association.

The next meeting of the Council will be held at St. Andrew's Church Hall on Thursday next at 5.30 p.m., when the report of the sub-committee appointed at the last annual meeting to revise the rules of the Association will be received and other sub-committees elected.

THE FREUDIAN JUNGLE

"Writers should be the reverse of 'little children'; they should be heard 'but never seen,' coolly declared Miss Helen Simpson during a lecture to other authors. She has even propounded the thesis that the novel as an art-form is declining, and the authors are partly at fault in not being more mysterious. The authoress, ironically enough, has herself given the lie to her preaching of the virtue of absence by the unusual charm of her presence and the graciousness of her personality. Is it, however, more than a fanciful speculation to suggest that authors may lose in prestige by the modern habit of publicity? The idea is not new, for Oscar Wilde posed the query — and answered it decisively — many years ago. 'Formerly we used to canonise our 'heroes,' he said. 'The modern method 'is to vulgarise them. Now-adays, we 'have so few mysteries left to us that 'we cannot afford to part with one of 'them. The members of the Browning 'Society seem to me to spend their 'time in trying to explain their 'divinity away.' The position is worse when it is the authors themselves who woo publicity and lose their halo of mysterious authority by too frequent public epiphanies. The gods of old were wiser; their appearances were rare enough to preserve their divinity. Shakespeare, too, has made King Henry IV warn Prince Hal of the dangers of commonness for royalty, declaring that he would not have won the throne had he, like the Prince,

So lavish of my presence been,
So common-hackneyed in the eyes of men,
So stale and cheap to vulgar company.
He was shrewd enough to know the value of rareness.
By being seldom seen, I could not stir
But like a comet I was wonder'd at.

Writers, and especially poets, were deemed sacred of old because to the common man there was something mysterious and awe-inspiring in their inspiration. The Odyssey begins significantly with an invocation of the heavenly Muse. In primitive times the bard was the "vates sacer," and art was associated with the mystery of religion. In mediaeval Europe the "clerk" who possessed the art of writing and reading was honoured by "benefit of clergy". Even in Victorian times Tennyson was poet and prophet. Dickens was almost a national hero. Today, writers are as common as gooseberries, novelists are too many, and the art of writing has lost its holiness, even if there still lingers some popular sense of the mystery of inspiration as its birthplace is removed from Parnassus to a subconsciousness equally cloudy. Literary oracles are sometimes held to come, if not from the Delphic oak, at least from the convenient darkness of a Freudian jungle.

Interesting is the second thesis of Miss Helen Simpson that authors are losing ground and novels are declining. As a writer who has won both popular and literary success, Miss Simpson is well qualified to speak on the thesis that novels are declining. It is true, as she claims, that the radio and the cinema are increasing in power and prestige, offering an entertainment that rivals fiction. They are media of expression more in tune with our quickly-moving age. Again, they offer better rewards to the writer, and even authors must live. The average remuneration from a novel has been estimated at some £60, and this is well below basic wage rates for a year's work. The growth of book-of-the-month clubs, literary dictatorships for the unintelligent mass, has meant that a few authors have profited disproportionately to their literary or other merits. In England, literary criticism, with a few distinguished exceptions, has disappeared for indiscriminate and tedious eulogy, and the lowering of critical standards has helped to lower public respect for the writer's craft. Here, too, the "princely privilege" of the fine creative writer has been lost "with vile participation". Yet this is not all the story. The film and the wireless, with all their capacities for vivid presentation, romantic narrative, and dramatic colour, cannot compass the subtleties, the leisurely development of character, and the indefinable flavour of personality rendered by the novel. Screen and microphone have still to achieve a "Tristram Shandy" or a "Kristin Lavransdatter," a "Lord Jim" or a "Pickwick Papers."

Money To Spend

King George's Jubilee Trust, gives a good account of itself in its Annual Report. It has spent £100,000 on helping Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, on assisting the provision of clubs for young people of both sexes, on adding to the area of playing fields, on establishing hostels and on making easier the organisation of camps. All of this serves the admirable purpose of putting interest and meaning into social life in the awkward years which follow upon school. The Trust records that it has spent more money than it received during the year, and proposes to do the same in the next twelve months. There cannot be a doubt about the rightness of this. The historical vice of such funds is a propensity to hoard their capital; there have been cases of large sums of money being left high and dry after all the intended beneficiaries have passed away. The Jubilee Trust has nearly a million in hand, and we should like to see the greater part of that sum, at any rate, converted into good works in the early years of its existence.

THE LEAGUE TO BROADCAST

During the Assembly of the League listeners on the short wave-length will be able to pick up a regular service of Assembly news, broadcast from the League's own building by the League's own announcers.

This is the first time in the League's history that such an arrangement has been possible, and the result will be watched with interest.

For the duration of the Assembly, following services are announced:—

At 8.00 p.m. nightly, except Sundays, to Great Britain and South Africa (in English).

At 7.30 p.m. New York time, nightly, except Saturdays, to Canada and North America (in English).

At approximately 8 p.m. New York time, nightly, except Saturdays, to Central and South America (in Spanish).

English And Spanish

English and Spanish have been selected because English- and Spanish-speaking countries are the only ones which can be reached on the short wave-length to be used. Each message will last about a quarter of an hour.

The announcer in English is to be Mr. Michael Barkway, who has been lent by the B.B.C. to the League for the purpose of initiating and developing this experiment. The broadcasting in Spanish will be given by Signor O. Bertholin, a Guatemalan, who is a member of the Information section of the League Secretariat.

In addition to a cinema theatre, the new League building now possesses a broadcasting studio and a recording room. The League also has priority over the Nyon, about fifteen miles from Geneva on the lakeside.

Two of these transmitters can be used both for telegraphy and for telephony, on the short wave-length. The third is for telegraphic purposes only, and is operated on the long wave-length.

In Emergencies

The transmitters were inaugurated on the opening day of the Disarmament Conference, February 2, 1932, and have since been used for occasional news bulletins. The Secretary-General makes extensive use of them for telegraphic communication to the members of the Council.

It is understood that, in a case of emergency, the League shall take entire possession of these transmitters, including the whole of the operating staff.

The new assembly hall of the League is remarkably well equipped for broadcasting purposes. There are no fewer than nine cabins, from which observers may speak, and the recording facilities are ample to allow of all nine being used simultaneously.

They Like You To Try And Hurt Yourself Here

There is a building in London where they like you to try to hurt yourself.

The sombrely named Home Office Industrial Museum, known in the neighbourhood of Horseferry-road, Westminster, as Fool-proof House, is now about to celebrate its tenth anniversary. Employers and workers from all over the world have discovered its value as a place to study the prevention of accidents, but London so far has not discovered the entertainment it has to offer.

The museum staff are grateful for London's ignorance. If it became generally known how many ways of not getting hurt they were able to demonstrate, the museum would be overrun with people anxious to practice narrow escapes in perfect safety.

Its ground floor, and its gallery are like a great, clean factory, containing machines for every process, from metal stamping, printing, meat mincing, cake mixing, wood-working, shoe and box making, to rubber rolling, laundrying, clothes pressing, and aerated water bottle-filling.

Muzzled

But the machines all have one thing in common. They, or their like, have all at one time or another hurt somebody—crushed an arm or a hand, lopped off a finger, or even drawn their minder to death.

Now they stand muzzled. Attached to them are all the latest ways of preventing anybody foolishly risking life and limb. The only way to prove how well muzzled they are is to risk life and limb among them. A Home Office factory inspector taking his month's turn-of-duty, plus refresher-course, in the museum obligingly risked his over and over again.

He tried to thrust his hand under a descending power press. An automatic grid shot out like a kicking gate and jolted him back.

The next power press in which the inspector did his best to jam his fingers had a rubber-sheathed guard which leapt out horizontally and pushed his arm aside. Other guards simply refused to allow him to place his hand near the press. Not even a finger could wriggle its way past their barriers.

Special Guards

A pair of heavy steel rollers used for rubber manufacture automatically stopped whenever hand or any other part of the body approached them. The guard of the heavy, paper-cutting guillotine threw him roughly back when he tried to meddle with the dropping knife.

An automatic washing machine, with its rotary cage for swirling clothes round would not start until its lid was closed and foolish hands were out of the way, and would not allow its lid to be opened until it had stopped rotating.

One clothes press would not do its work unless both hands were applied to separate switches. Try to smooth out a garment crease at the last minute as the press came down, and it simply stopped. Another rotated out of reach of hands before applying its pressure.

A cake mixer with sinister steel revolving arms inside its drum would not allow its guard to be raised until the arms had stopped revolving. A pastry roller, like a steel mangle, started rotating the other way whenever hands came near it, so that fingers were pushed away instead of being drawn in.

Anti-Meddle Devices

Even cardboard box making machines and sewing machines had the anti-meddle devices. It was impossible to put your finger under the jabbing needle of the sewing machine. The small electric interlocking guard not only pushed it aside, but would not allow you to work the sewing machine without it.

You could, if you liked, slice your fingers with the woodwork planing and cutting machines, but it was difficult if you held your wood clamped in one of the many new and variously shaped "jigs" designed to prevent your hands from coming near the tools.

Nor could you slip against the circular saws and other cutting edges. The floor, which has been polished by workers' feet and gyrating sawdust, was covered with varieties of the most obstinate non-slip material.

It was just as difficult to fall downstairs. Each step which led to the museum's gallery had a different non-slip surface to show how many ways there are of not breaking your leg.

The builder's crane, in the gallery, did not prevent you from overloading it and dropping a few hundredweight on yourself or somebody else, but it did its best to warn you by making a noise like half a dozen alarm clocks whenever you reached danger point. A whole section of a ship's deck rigged up nearby showed what stresses and strains your derricks could stand if you were to load her up in safety.

Ways of not injuring yourself while repairing a hot furnace or

AIR MINISTRY'S NEW SCHOOL

Training Control Officers

The Air Ministry has started in Chequer-street, Tottenham Court-road, a school for the training of air traffic control officers, many of whom will be needed for Empire and inland air lines.

They must have special knowledge and training, and it is no longer possible to recruit them from casual sources. Mere experience of flying as pilot or engineer is not sufficient.

The principal of the school is Mr. J. J. Jeffs, who for many years was in charge of Croydon airport, and has been in control of flying at countless important flying meetings and races. He trained several of the control officers at other airports.

In future all qualified aerodrome officers will be required to hold second-class navigators' licences, for they must have close acquaintance with the daily problems of both air-line and private pilots. Almost needless to say, the pupils of this new school are themselves pilots.

The subjects taught include air regulations, the law of the air, meteorology and navigation by dead reckoning and by radio direction-finding. Lectures on various aspects of air transport, and other matters with which the aerodrome control officer must be familiar, are given by experts.

working in a refrigerator were curiously similar. A polar bear suit of thick wool and felt padding for the furnace; another of wool and leather for the refrigerator.

Two rooms devoted themselves to showing how not to blow up your factory by dust explosion or enfeeble your workmanship by inadequate lighting. And, finally, there was this week's special tip—how, by fixing a sliding metal guard, not to get your foot caught in a lift gate, and how, by using a safety valve to prevent excessive pressure, not to die of a burst blow-lamp.

Social And Concert

A very successful social and concert was held at St. Andrew's Church Hall last night by the Kowloon Tong Anglican Church.

An excellent programme of variety, to which many leading local artistes contributed, interspersed with dancing, made for an enjoyable evening.

Specially striking were dances given by Miss Stella Best and Miss Peggy Scotcher, the former's "Snake Dance" being a fine exhibition of advanced technique.

Other popular local favourites who took part were Miss Anne Winter, Rev. Cyril Brown, Mrs. Portallion, Mr. Maurice Barton and Mr. Rupert Baldwin.

The many friends of Dorothy and Vida Cook will be pleased to hear that they have been successful in obtaining Pitman's Certificates in Advanced Theory, Shorthand and Honours in Intermediate Typewriting. They were both students of Mrs. C. M. Bird who is now commercial Teacher at the Diocesan Girls' School, Kowloon.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Subject: Reality

The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, tomorrow, September 26, will be: "Reality."

The Golden Text will be: "For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven." (Psalms 119:89).

Among others, the following citations from the Bible will be read: "For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named, that he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man; that Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, being rooted and grounded in love, may be able to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height; and to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fulness of God." (Eph. 3:14-19).

The Lesson Sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The admission to one's self that man is God's own likeness sets man free to master the infinite idea. This conviction shuts the door on death, and opens it wide towards immortality. It is difficult for the sinner to accept divine Science, because Science exposes his nothingness; but the sooner error is reduced to its native nothingness, the sooner man's great reality will appear and his genuine being will be understood. Absorbed in material selfhood we discern and reflect but faintly the substance of Life or Mind. According to Christian Science, the only real senses of man are spiritual emanating from divine Mind. Thought passes from God to man, but neither sensation nor report goes from material body to Mind. The intercommunication is always from God to His idea, man. Matter is not sentient and cannot be cognizant of good or of evil, of pleasure or of pain. Man's individuality is not material. This Science of being obtains not alone hereafter in what men call Paradise, but here and now; it is the great fact of being for time and eternity." (Pages 90, 91, 284).

KOWLOON FIELDING FIVE NEWCOMERS: FOWLER AS CLUB'S NEW LEADER

CHINESE TEAMS MAKE MANY CHANGES: K. CHINESE HAVE 11 NEWCOMERS

(By "OUTSIDE LEFT")

IT is yet too early to gauge the form of the many clubs in the First Division of the local Football League, which will commence this afternoon with four interesting encounters, including the initial appearance of the Middlesex Regiment in the Hong Kong League. South China "A" make their first appearance as a team since their return from their South Seas tour, against Eastern, and are expected to record their first win.

The former League champions are making several interesting changes. Wong Wah-gay, former junior custodian, will be seen in goal instead of Pau Ka-ping, who is resting at the moment, while Mak Shui-hon, former Kowloon Chinese and Athletic full-back, makes his first appearance for South China in partnership with Lee Tin-sang.

Lee Wai-tong, China's soccer idol and probably the most attractive soccer player in China to-day, will be missed from the South China "A" centre-forward position to-day when the team meets Eastern in the First Division.

As they have played together on tour with considerable success, they should form a very formidable line of defence against Eastern's attack. Lee Tin-sang, however, is a very doubtful starter because of the Canton bombings and in case he fails to appear, the right-back position will be filled by Yeung Ka-cheng, a newcomer from Penang, who also made the South Seas tour.

In the unavoidable absence of Lee Wai-tong, who is on the injured list, Chan Tak-fai, one of the cleverest of the junior or South China "B" inside-forwards, has been promoted and will be seen at inside-right in support of Fung King-cheong.

FIVE NEWCOMERS

With five newcomers in Rowlands, in goal, Souza, at left-back, Coakley, right-wing, Jorge, inside-right, and Evans, former Interport left-half, at inside-left—almost half a team—Kowloon should do well against the Seaforths, who are, however, favoured to beat the Kowloon Civilians.

The Kowloon team has not yet settled down to the many changes in all departments of the game and I very much doubt whether the very clever Scots will give them an opportunity to do so to-day. I think the greatest mistake Kowloon have made was to have moved D. Knox to the left-wing position.

McGuigan, Sampson and Fraser the Scots' three inside-forwards, are probably three of the fastest forwards in the Colony at the moment, deadly for their terrific "daisy-cutters."

UNKNOWN QUANTITY

St. Joseph's are fielding a fairly strong team, but against an unknown quantity like Kowloon Chinese, who are reported to be fielding 11 newcomers, a forecast of a win in their favour would be unnatural.

In the remaining senior game, the Club will entertain the Middlesex Regiment is what promises to be one of the most attractive encounters of the week-end. The Club are making several interesting positional changes. Stone will be seen on the right-wing and Freddie Fowler, as centre-forward.

CENTRE PROBLEM

The Club are confident that Fowler's thrustfulness and great shoot-

P.S.A. HAVE THE BEST JUNIOR XI

SMALL UNITS WILL LOSE PLAYERS SOON

POWHATTAN'S CHANCES

There is no doubt that the decision to divide the Third Division of the local Football League into two sections will result in keenness being maintained till the end of the season, though it appears that the best football will be seen on the mainland as the Portuguese Sporting Association, the Seaforths and the Air Force are in this section.

The Portuguese Sporting Association, conceded to have the best chance of winning the championship, will have the whole of Liga's team at their disposal together with several of Recreio's First Division players, and by their recent displays in several friendly games, are well up to Second Division standard and could well have followed Kwong Wah's example in applying for entry in the Second Division.

The Air Force will start with much the same team as last year though they will be losing several good players later, among whom will be Thomas, their goal-keeper, Owen, their centre-half, and McGregor and Doherty, in the forward line. Solis will lead in the attack to-day.

DUE FOR LEAVE SOON

The Ordnance, which did well at the end of the season, will start off with a good side as they will still have Waters and Duffield, but these two are due for home soon. Scad-

WORLD'S TENNIS RANKING LISTS

Donald Budge, above, Wimbledon and American Singles champion, who helped American regain the much coveted Davis Cup trophy, has been ranked No. 1 amateur in the world by A. Wallis Myers, the well known London "Daily Telegraph" tennis critic and editor of Ayres Lawn Tennis Almanack.

DONALD BUDGE AND ANITA LIZANA BOTH PLACED FIRST HENKEL OUSTS AUSTIN FOR THIRD PLACE KAY STAMMERS OMITTED

London, To-day.

THE annual ranking list of the world's best tennis players, has just been issued by the veteran tennis expert, Mr. A. Wallis Myers, Editor of Ayres Lawn Tennis Almanack, and Lawn Tennis Correspondent of the London "Daily Telegraph".

AS EXPECTED, WALLIS MYERS HAS ASSIGNED THE FIRST PLACE IN THE MEN'S LIST TO THE YOUNG AMERICAN, DONALD BUDGE, WHO WON THE ALL ENGLAND CHAMPIONSHIP AT WIMBLEDON AS WELL AS THE AMERICAN CHAMPIONSHIP AT FOREST HILLS, PRACTICALLY RECOVERING THE DAVIS CUP FOR THE UNITED STATES SINGLEHANDED.

The second place is assigned to the German tennis ace, Baron Gottfried Von Cramm, who was defeated by Budge in the finals at Wimbledon and Forrest Hills as well as in a thrilling five set match which secured an American victory in Germany — the American-German, Davis Cup ties.

HENKEL THIRD

The world's third best player, according to the results of the 1937 tennis season, in Wallis Myers' view, is Henner Henkel, of Germany. The other six players who are considered worthy of a place in the first 10 are:

- 4, H. W. Austin (G. Britain); 5, Bobby Riggs (United States); 6, Bryan M. Grant (United States); 7, Jack Crawford (Australia); 8, Roderich Menzel (Czechoslovakia); 9, Frankie Parker (United States) and 10, Charles E. Hare (G. Britain).

The list of the world's 10 best women players on the basis of performances in 1937, are as follows:

1. Senorita Anita Lizana (Chile). 2. Mrs. Little (nee Dorothy Round) (G. Britain). 3. Mlle. Jedrzejowska (Poland). 4. Mrs. Sperling (Denmark). 5. Mme. Mathieu (France). 6. Miss Helen Hull Jacobs (U.S.). 7. Miss Alice Marble (U.S.). 8. Miss Maria Luise Horn (Germany). 9. Miss Mary Hardwick (G. Britain). 10. Miss Dorothy Bundy (U.S.).

senior teams, is the expressed opinion of many who have seen them in action. Kong Hing is a very useful forward and his understanding with Chan Chiu is good. In the defence Chan Wai-lo, in goal, and Fan Kwok-chi, their pivot, are very sound players.

As the result of several newcomers in the First Division, Kowloon, is able to field a strong junior team which will include Jeffreys, G. White and W. Knox, all of whom figured in the senior team last season. Newcomers include Bulpin, at inside-right, and Thompson, at centre-forward.

The Club have three newcomers in their team in Olsen, Keown and Taylor, but a general change round in the positions of the other players has greatly strengthened the side.

Miss Kay Stammers, who was Great Britain's first ranking woman tennis player with Miss Dorothy Round (Mrs. Little) last season, has failed to secure one of the 10 positions in Mr. A. Wallis Myers' rankings for the world's 10 best women players.

ing ability will solve their centre-forward weakness, while at the same time it must be remembered that he is the only Club forward who can head a ball decently!

The Middlesex will probably field their best team available now that they have had sufficient practice, and I will be most surprised if they do not repeat their victory over the Club (they won a friendly game a fortnight ago by 7 goals to 1).

To-morrow, the Police will meet South China "B", who are expected to secure their first brace of points.

SECOND DIVISION PROSPECTS

EXPERIMENTAL
AFTERNOON

CIVILIANS MUCH STRONGER

Though the local football season is starting no sooner than in previous years, most of the Junior teams will commence their programme to-day with experimental sides, due to lack of an opportunity for practice games, and the sorting out of material at their disposal.

The fact that the playing fields at the Valley and Sookun-poo were not open for play till the middle of September, left little time for most of the Army teams to secure any practice, and in consequence, last season's players have for the most part been given preference to newcomers.

The championship for the Second Division promises to be very keenly contested this season, as unlike in past years, when a few teams stood head and shoulders above the rest, this season's 12 teams appear to be very evenly matched.

SAPPERS SHOW UP WELL

The Engineers, in spite of having lost most of last year's players, are still able to field a strong side, and, of the newcomers, Tudor, Box and White have shown up well in the last practice game.

The Seaforths have promoted three of their Second Division players in Spiers, Fraser and Sampson, to the senior side, and though this may weaken them, their reserves are well up too Second Division standard.

MOST COMMENDABLE

Kwong Wah, whose sportsmanship in entering a higher division is most commendable, are also fielding a strong side and with the assistance of Henry Young, Yeung Tso-tseung and Lee Kwok-ki, all of whom have played in a higher division, should go a long way in this division.

CHINESE POLICE STRONG

That the Chinese Police team could hold its own with many has greatly strengthened the side.

K.C.C. MIXED DOUBLES

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Burnett (— 153) entered the semi-final round of the Kowloon Cricket Club's Mixed Doubles Handicap tennis event yesterday, when they beat Mr. and Mrs. G. A. White (+ 1/6) by 6-4, 6-3. They will now meet A. W. Ramsey and Miss V. Bradbury (+ 1/6) for right of entry into the Final.

70,000 SEE ARSENAL RECORD WIN

BASEBALL TROPHY PRESENTATION

Pui Ching Winner
Of Pennant

PENINSULA HOTEL FUNCTION

By "SHORTSTOP"

The official ending of the local Baseball season will be the presentation of the Bagram Shield and the Vogue Trophy at the Peninsula Hotel on Friday, October 1, at 5.30 p.m.

Pui Ching, winners of the pennant, will receive the trophies for the second year in succession. The lads from Canton, aided by the best players from the U. S. S. Mindanao, won the pennant fairly easily.

All the managers of the teams participating in the League have been notified, and the meeting, in the private dining room on the first floor, should be the scene of joyful reunions stimulated by the fact that the small fee of only $1. is being charged for all the beer one can consume.

PURPOSE OF MEETING

The purpose of the meeting is twofold. A general meeting will be held at that time to wind up the season's activities and to elect new officers for 1938, while the financial report will be made by the Hon. Treasurer.

It is hoped that all those who participated in the League this summer will be present at this meeting. Baseball has not had a get-together of this kind previously in the Colony, and it is a precedent that should be acclaimed by all enthusiasts of the sport. It is also hoped that the newly formed Softball League will send its quota of representatives to this meeting. The close relationship between the two games is apparent and many of the present Softballers will probably join in the Baseball League when that season begins next year.

LEAGUE CHAMPIONS DEFEAT LEICESTER CITY HIBBS IS INJURED

—London, September 4.

SEVENTY thousand spectators watched the play at Highbury where the Arsenal beat Wolverhampton by 5 goals to nil. The only Clubs with an unbeaten record so far in eight days football are the Arsenal and Notts County teams.

THE ARSENAL WERE FAR MORE SNAPPY IN THEIR ATTACKS THAN THE WOLVES WHOSE INSIDE FORWARDS LET THEM DOWN BY WEAK FINISHING. ARSENAL LED BY 2 GOALS AT THE INTERVAL AND ON CHANGING ENDS BAS- TIN CONVERTED A PENALTY AND DRAKE CARRIED THE SCORE TO FIVE GOALS WITH TWO GOOD HEADERS.

The next largest crowd was at Manchester where 40,000 spectators saw the champions beat Leicester City. The newly-promoted team gave the champions a level game in the first half in which defence proved better than attack. No goals were scored, but after the interval Manchester dominated the game. Brook scored in the first minute of the second half and Herd and Bray added to the score.

Blackpool and Everton played fast and evenly contested soccer. There was no scoring in the first half and though Everton played the more skilful game on resumption Finan scored the winning goal for Blackpool in the eighteenth minute.

CROOKS' FINE EFFORT

Though Sunderland played a more forceful game it was Derby that took the lead through a header by Astley. A penalty converted by Saunders placed Sunderland on level terms and Hastings gave them the lead before the interval. A brilliant individual effort by Crooks saved the game for Derby.

Chelsea showed cleverness, individually, but continue to lack the team spirit. The Albion's forward played a more direct game with happier results. Mahon and Robbins scored for them in the first half. Robbins added another goal and Richardson the fourth. Only Woodley's brilliance in Chelsea's goal prevented a bigger margin.

HIBBS HURT

Charlton's sound defence gave them victory over Liverpool whose forwards could not seize their chances.

Birmingham led by 2 goals to nil at the interval and then Hibbs, England's International goalkeeper, was injured. Portsmouth seized the opportunity to draw level.

Bolton were fortunate to win by the only goal of their match with Grimsby who bombarded their goal during the last half hour.

WASTED OPPORTUNITIES

Sheffield Wednesday wasted many scoring opportunities and could not do better than draw with Swansea.

Luton have quickly found their feet in the higher division. Their match against Manchester United was fast and exciting. Davies scored the winning goal for Luton in the sixty-seventh minute of play.

Stockport lost their hundred per cent. record, their forwards making no headway against Barnley's strong defence.

SCOTTISH SCORERS

Ayr—McGibbon 3; Clyde—Wilson, Robertson, Ureghart.
Celtic—Carruth 3, Buchan; Hamilton—Harrison, Keddie.
Dundee—Barrie 2, Kirby, Cochrane, Queen of the South—Law.
Falkirk—Keyes 2, Dawson, Bolt; Hearts—Black, Walker.
Hibernian—Finnigan; Kilmarnock—McGowan.
Motherwell—McCulloch; Rangers—Main.
St. Johnstone—McCall, Fulton, McLaren; Morton—Smith, Black.
St. Mirren—McKenzie 2, Ferguson, Knox; Queen's Park—Christie.
Third Lanark—Kennedy, McInnes.

P.S.A. HAVE THE BEST JUNIOR XI

ding and Haslam are two good newcomers, while the arrival of Emberson, early in October, should strengthen the attack.

The Service Corps will still have Smith, who played for England in the Final of the Sunday Herald Charity Cup competition, in goal, while Reeder will be on the right-wing, and Beasley at centre-forward.

In the Army League this team have shown great promise.

MEDICAL CHANGES

Great changes are expected in the Medicals team, by the time the next troops arrive and depart, in which they will be losing Howells, their pivot, and Harrison, their centre-forward, while Yound, their inside-right, is also expected to depart. Most of last year's team will be available, however, while it is hoped that new talent will be available with the next draft.

Powhattan, who are making their debut, are fielding a team who have not played in League football before and though they do not expect to meet with much success, they hope that the experience gained this year will greatly benefit them later.

Local Soccer By "Linesman"

King Soccer will be in the limelight this afternoon when the opening games of the League are to take place, and most of the followers of the game are wondering what the prospects are like for the 1937-8 season.

Recent friendly matches have revealed form that is, to say the least, anything but encouraging. One need not be too pessimistic, and yet, can we look forward to a bumper season? The reasons are numerous for a person to firmly believe that soccer this year is not going to be anything like what it has been in the past.

First of all, let us go into this matter seriously. The holders of the Championship have been transferred to Shanghai, where they are doing service. The runners-up will be without the services of some of their best players—they are doing their bit in Canton. New recruits who have been tried out for different teams, have shown us nothing that we could rave about. The filling of vacancies by junior division players of last year—and from their exhibitions, that is where they should remain—has not in any way, assisted the somewhat complicated state of affairs that some clubs are experiencing at the present time.

There are a few teams, however, who are sure to keep alive the keenness of some followers, and we shall be looking forward to their engagements.

The new regiment, The Middlesex, have done extremely well in their friendly tussles, and this in spite of the fact that some of their outstanding performers are not with them. Then we have the Seaforth Highlanders who have at all times given us first class football. That this team will be knocking on the championship door goes without saying.

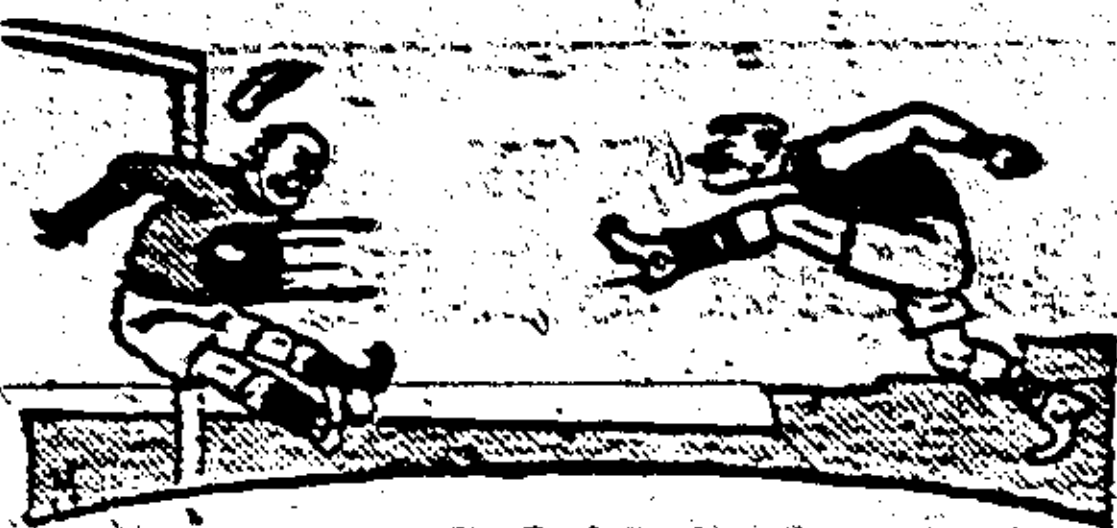

South China can always raise an eleven that could give most teams in the Colony a scare. There is one lamentable fact about South China this year, and that is the absence of Lee Wai-tong, their idol and watch-winner. To suffer an injury that will keep this player from performing before thousands of admiring fans—foreigners as well as his own people—is our loss.

Kowloon have been rejuvenated with the inclusion of new blood, and judging by their game against the Middlesex, it means very little.

This afternoon the Seaforths should defeat Kowloon and the other military team, The Middlesex, must be given the big edge to beat the Club. St. Joseph's and South China "A" should win their matches over Kowloon Chinese and Eastern respectively. The South China "B" should have a even tussle with the Police to-morrow afternoon.

SWIMMING HEATS

The preliminary heats of the 100 Yards free style swimming championship of the Colony, for boys, under 15 years of age, took place at the V.R.C. pool yesterday. The following boys qualified to meet in the finals at 6 p.m. on Friday, October 1: K. Lo, D. Morris, P. Jorge, R. Ho and B. Barnes.

The following are some of to-day's teams:

TROPHY FOR SOFTBALL LEAGUE

CUP PRESENTED
BY MAYO'S
MUCH DESIRED
INCENTIVE
(By "SHORTSTOP")

The first donor of a cup to the newly formed Hong Kong Softball League is Mr. Emile J. Porter, of Mayo's, the popular milliner's, in the Gloucester Arcade. In its infancy in the Colony, softball needs an incentive of this kind, and the generosity of Mr. Porter will be acclaimed by all participating clubs.

Mr. Porter has been associated with baseball in Hong Kong ever since his arrival from the United States, where he played in his school days for Broadway High School and later for the University of Washington at Seattle.

His connection with the sport locally has given it a sorely needed impetus. As a manager of the Volunteer Baseball Club he brought his team to the runner-up position, which was unprecedented, as the boys had never played baseball in any league before.

HIS COACHING

The baseball sense that the local Defence Corps has acquired was solely administered by Mr. Porter and the masterful way his infield handled the ball last season was a pleasant surprise to the bleachers.

At a meeting held last Thursday night at the residence of Mr. Matty Chang, the constitution and bye-laws of the Hong Kong Softball League were drafted. They will be presented to the meeting to be held on October 4, at 5.30 p.m., at the Cecil Hotel.

At present there are eight teams entered in the League and those clubs which anticipate joining must do so before October 1, by sending in their entries to the Hon. Secretary, Mr. W. A. Smith, care of the "China Mail."

STARTING TIMES FOR FANLING

The following are the Royal Hong Kong Golf Club starting times for Fanling to-morrow:—

Owing to the possibility of the train being late, the times allotted may all be moved on a bit.

OLD COURSE

9.28 a.m. C. Mycock, W. Hewitt.
9.32 a.m. J. B. Stewart, W. H. Jowitt.
9.38 a.m. A. Morse, K. S. Morrison.
9.40 a.m. E. Laidlaw, P. Morrison.
9.44 a.m. Sir E. des Voeux.

Col. Matthews.

HARDCOURT TOURNEY SEMI-FINALS

Fine Doubles Games
On Tap

A RUMJAHN DERBY

(By "ADREM")

A combination with years and years of experience, will this afternoon clash with two individually brilliant players but a comparatively new pairing. In other words, S. A. and H. D. Rumjahn will meet L. Goldman and A. L. Sullivan in the semi-final round of the Colony Open Hardcourt Tennis Championships at the U.S.R.C.

The U.S.R.C. pair have been the leading players in League matches during the season just concluding, and on the form they have been showing, are certain to provide serious opposition to the formidable cousins, whose supremacy has only once been threatened for over a decade.

OPEN GAME

On the other hand, The Rumjahns have not had the advantage of playing together in the League and this, combined with the fact that they are not as used to a hard surface as their opponents, should make the game very open.

It is never safe to forecast an adverse result, where the Rumjahns are concerned. They have an uncanny knack of extricating themselves from the tightest corners. The only thing certain is that an entertaining game will result.

Tsui Wai-pui, having found his touch following his European tour, should not experience a great deal of difficulty against Teddy Fincher.

TO-MORROW'S PROGRAMME

To-morrow's tennis will be nothing if not attractive; another excellent doubles match—and a return clash between S. A. and H. D. Rumjahn.

The former match, A. V. Remedios and J. Gonsalves against Tsui Wai-pui and W. C. Hung, should provide some fine entertainment of the hard-hitting, brilliant variety, while in the singles, S. A. will make every endeavour to wipe off the defeat suffered at the hands of his cousin in the final of the Colony Grasscourt Championships.

AUSTRIA DETERMINED TO AVOID ANY INCIDENT

Innsbruck, To-day.

Twenty-four hours before Signor Mussolini's journey through the Austrian Tyrol, en route to Germany where he will meet Herr Hitler, Innsbruck resembles a big army camp.

In addition to the Tyrolean forces, 2,000 gendarmes from other parts of Austria have arrived to assist in carrying out safety precautions.

All buildings along the railway line were searched yesterday by detectives and number of inhabitants arrested as a preventive measure.

Guards will remain suspicious of houses along the line until the Duce's train has passed.—Reuter.

ARRIVAL IN FLORENCE

Rome, To-day.

Signor Mussolini arrived in Florence yesterday afternoon on his way to Germany and interrupted his journey for a short time to deal with despatches and telegrams from Rome.

During the entire journey the Duce will remain in touch with Rome by radio, equipment having been installed in his special

MADAME CHIANG KAI-SHEK APPEALS IN LONDON FOR MEDICAL SUPPLIES

London, To-day.

Madame Chiang Kai-shek has cabled the Chinese Embassy in London urgently appealing for help for China's wounded.

"I have just returned from the fighting front around the Shanghai area," she says.

"The sight of thousands and thousands of wounded soldiers patiently waiting at every first aid station for transportation to hospital, wrings my heart.

"Already medical supplies in Shanghai have been bought out and other immediate sources of supply are being drained.

"All medical and Red Cross relief work offered by the British public will be gratefully accepted.
